Freeing Hospitals to Focus on Patient Care

Fixby is a powerful task management and patient request handling tool for healthcare institutions.

Our goal is simple: to make hospital management easier and more efficient. You can streamline maintenance requests, automate tasks as per pre-set priorities, and ensure smooth communication between staff and more. Say goodbye to frustrating delays and hello to a smoother, more patient-focused hospital experience.

Addressing Hospital Challenges:

Tedious Task Management: Frontline staff are overwhelmed by manual maintenance tasks, diverting attention from patient care and increasing the risk of errors.

Communication Breakdowns: Old communication systems lead to staff confusion, delaying responses and impacting patient care.

Patient Satisfaction: Patient experience can be compromised when their requests are not addressed promptly, potentially leading to frustration.

Lack of Transparency: Patients and staff may get frustrated due to unclear hospital operations, making it hard to track requests or understand decisions without transparency.
